

Financial Agent and Depository Services Compensation

The Bureau of the Fiscal Service engages commercial banks to provide services for the federal government in a financial agent and depository capacity. The services provided by financial agents and depositories include the collection of over $5.5 trillion in annual revenue, the support of payment programs government-wide and at embassies and military bases internationally, and the collection of receivables for federal agencies. Financial agent services support paper checks, electronic checks, ACH, wires, credit and debit cards, stored value cards, emerging payment technologies, and financial data management.
