

FACT SHEET - Financial Information Repository (FIR)

What is the FIR?

The Financial Information Repository (FIR) is the U.S. Department of the Treasury's initiative to provide usable, easy-to-understand summarized, aggregated, and detailed information about the billions of financial transactions processed by the Treasury each year.

Through Fiscal Service, the FIR supports transparency and accountability and promotes operational efficiency by providing secure access to the following data:

- Debt Management
- Payments
- Collections
- Accounting

Fiscal Service's mission is to promote the financial integrity and operational efficiency of the federal government through exceptional accounting, financing, collections, payments, and shared services. The bureau's vision is to help transform financial management and the delivery of shared services in the federal government.

What are the benefits?

Integrate — provides a single, integrated system to query data and view reports

Analyze — robust and intuitive web front-end for analyzing data trends and patterns

Enhance — provides insight into financial data for improved agency decision making

What is available for Debt Management Services (DMS) users through FIR?

Information is provided through various tools on the FIR Portal, including:

- Interactive Treasury Offset Program (TOP)
- Treasury Report on Receivables (TROR) dashboards
- Aggregated and detailed data allowing for detailed analysis
- Data viewable by reporting periods

How does FIR use agency feedback?

Multiple factors contribute to the development and enhancements to the FIR, the most important and influential being agency feedback.

Agency feedback is used to drive the following:

- Portal enhancements
- Future data prioritization
- Onboarding process improvements

How can agencies get involved?

As repositories become integrated with the FIR, we identify possible users and begin the outreach/ onboarding process with agency contacts.

The FIR Outreach Team will continue to seek user feedback to identify and address future business intelligence, reporting, and analytics needs of agencies.

ABOUT FISCAL SERVICE AND DMS

The U.S. Department of the Treasury's Bureau of the Fiscal Service assists federal agencies with the prevention, collection and resolution of debts owed to government agencies. Additionally, we provide debt collection services to the states. Debt Management Services (DMS) is the business area responsible for administering programs and services related to improper payments, receivables management and delinquent debt collection.
