Saves Taxpayer Dollars

Saves Money

- Available at no charge to agencies and their vendors
- Helps avoid prompt pay penalties and capture early payment discounts

Saves Time

- Agencies don't have to manually handle paper invoices
- Frees staff from data entry, error correction and reconciliation
- Reduces phone calls and e-mails from vendors

Improves Your Financial Management

- Increased controls help agencies avoid improper payments and prevent overbilling
- Use fewer resources to pay promptly
- Promotes standard process to manage government invoices
- Supports Treasury and OMB initiatives, such as the Shared First
- Complies with relevant Federal standards (e.g. FAR) requirements

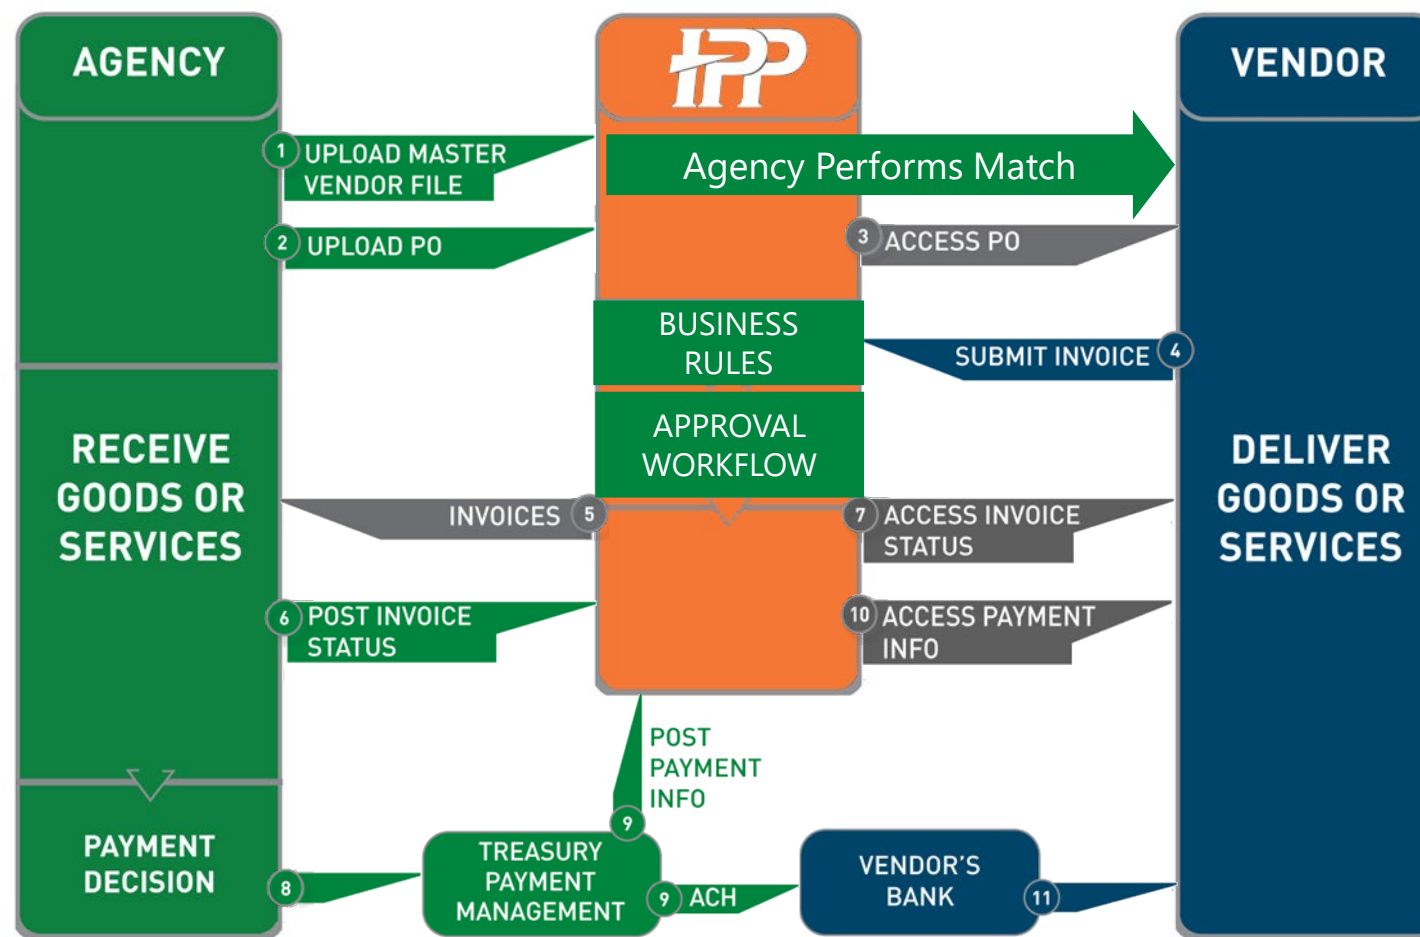

Makes it Easier to Conduct Business

- Provides a consolidated view of all transactions in one place
- Supports agency's business rules
- Compatible with existing business systems
- Controls vendor access to transactions with a secure platform outside the core financial system
